Evaluation Findings

Numerous independent evaluations have shown the following results for families in Parents as Teachers:

- PAT children at age three are significantly more advanced than comparison children in language, problem solving and other cognitive abilities, and social development.
- PAT parents are more involved in their children's schooling - - parental involvement is highly related to a child's success in school.
- The positive impact on PAT children carries into the elementary school year; PAT children score higher on kindergarten readiness test and standardized measures of reading, math and language in early grades.
- PAT parents are more confident in their parenting skills and knowledge; they read more to their children - - a key factor in preparing children for school success.
